Sandy Bank Burial Ground Clean Up

By Jeffry Cadorette

On Saturday, March 31, 2007 Media Rotarians were joined by members of Providence Friends Meeting and a crew of Delaware County community service workers along with former Media Rotarian Frank Desmond to begin the process of restoring this historic site to place of dignity and respect.

The Rotarians present were President Terry Kline, Jack Sproul, Mollie O'Brien, Bob Dimond, Randyh Winton, Bill Tyson, Jackie Woolfall, and Tom Hibberd who was joined by his son Nate.

The day was spent with chain saws and other power tools, rakes, brooms, and a rented chipper. When the day was over, much of the burial ground had been reclaimed from nature and years of unwanted dumping. While there is still work necessary to complete the project, a huge effort was put in that accomplished the significant portion of the clean up. Coming attractions will be the completion of the clean up, installation of a four-foot high wrought iron fence along the top of the stone wall, and benches that will allow folks to sit and find solace in the midst of this historic ground.

I went back to the site Saturday evening at 7:00 to review the work accomplished that day and someone had left a solitary red tulip at the top of the steps. It made the day feel very worthwhile.

Providence Friends Meeting has committed to maintaining the site in perpetuity. It had been neglected because the ownership of the site was unclear and over the years it became a mystery as to who actually was responsible. That mystery has now been solved and the burial ground will again be a small place of meditation and solace in the midst of our busy Borough.

Thanks to all that helped out. We'll keep you posted on further needs/progress.
